THE DAILY EVENING THE BRIDE PHILL STREET AND SATURDAY AUGUST 31, 1867

THE SOUTH

General Wade Hampton's Letter on the Situation. General Wade Hampton having been solicited by a number of prominent citizens for his views as to the duty of the people of South Carolina in reference to its reorganization under the Military bills, replies in a long letter, arguing against the injustice and the unconstitution-ality of the proposed measures. The following extracts from his letter will show his views: against the Injustice and the unconstitutionality of the proposed measures. The following extracts from his letter will show his views:—

Has this policy of concession to unlawful demands been no productive of benefit that we still desire to pursue it? Are we prepared, for the sake of expediency—that fatal fallicey which has lured us so far on the road to desiruction. that Tecjan horse which has brought with it an Illad of wees—to barter away the few rights remaining to us? Yet this is the course we must follow if we accept terms which we know to be cestrary to the conditions on which we surrendered, which are in open and palpable violations, and which are in open and palpable violations, and which are in open and palpable violations, and which are in open and palpable violation of the Constitution of the United States—of that Constitution of the United States—of that Constitution which we swear to support, at the very moment we are grossly outraring its most sacred provisions. Would not those who vote for these isawa, knowing them to be unconstituted had, be suitty of perjary? Let me not be understood as making any reflections on those Southern men who hencestly and conscientiously advocate our acceptance of hese Military bills. Any divisions among us are to be deprecated, and it is as unwise as it is unkind to imnogn the motives of men who, on many a field, have proved thei, devotion to the South. Expectally do I segret the virulent attacks which have be-an made on that gallant solder who so long and so ably led the illustrious int Corps of the Army of Northern Virginia. It has been his hard fate, in peace as in war, to be wounded by his own people. That charity which "hopeth all things," and a natural distrust of our own judgment, should make us treat the convictions of such men with at least kindly and proper consideration. But for those "who see the right, and yet the wrong pursue," who, while their constry seems to be struggling in the throes of death, consult only their ewn base fears and low instincts—w siberties. Ruin to the South will react on the North, and if we are crushed into the dust, the Northern people will see but the foreshadowing of their own certain doom. Recognize, as an established principle, the right of any positical party that may be in the ascendancy to its upon all who differ with them laws manthorised by the Constitution of the United States, and we shall beein that downwa'd career which will lead us steadily through confusion, anarchy, and blood to the certain overthrow of republican institutions and free government. Believing this, I regard it as the duty of every man, in the exercise of the right accorded to all by these Military bills, to oppose their adoption by all lawful means. As the people have the privilege, then, of expressing their assent or dissent on this question, I advise them, carnestly, to record the latter as fally and solemnly as possible. Let every man register, and cast his vote against the Couvention, since the question will be made on that issue.

* * As it is of the last consequence to maintain the same amicable relations which have heretofore existed between the whites and the blacks, I cannot too strongly reiterate my counsel, that all classes should cultivate harmony and exercise forbearance. Let our people remember that the negroes have, as a general rule, behaved admirably, and that they are no manner responsible for the present condition of affairs. Should they, in the future, be misled by wicked or designing men, let us consider how ignorant they necessarily are, and let us, only she more, try to convince them that we are their best friends. Deal with them with perfect justice, and thus show that you wish to promote their advancement and enlightenment. Do this, and the negroes will not only learn to trust you, but they will soon appreciate the fact so evident to us, that we can do without them far better than they can do without they mere atto the consion, where many of you were present, I expressed my willingness to see imsoon appreciate the fact so evident to us, that we can do without them far better than they can do without us. On a late public occasion, where many of you were present, I expressed my willingness to see impartial suffrage established at the South, and I believe that this opinion is entertained not only by a large majority of the intelligent and reflecting whites, but also of the same class among the blacks. I deprecate universal suffrage, not only on general principles, but especially in the case before us, because I deny the right of Congress to prescribe the rules of citizenship in the States. The Supreme Court has needled that a negro is not a citizen of the United States, and Congress cannot reverse that decision by any act. The States, nowever, are competent to confer citizensulo on the negro, and I think it is the part of wisdom that such action should be taken by the Southern States. We have recognised the freedom of the blacks, and have placed this lact beyond all propability of doubt, decial or recall. Let us recognize in the same frank manner, and as fully, their political rights also. For myself, I convess that I am perfectly willing to see a Constitution adopted by our State, conferring the elective franchise on the negro, on precisely the same terms as it is to be exercised by the white man, guarding against the on the negro, on precisely the same terms as it is to be exercised by the white man, guarding against the abuse of this privilege by establishing a slight educa-tional and property qualification for all classes.

The Whites and Blacks at War in East Tennessec.

Nashville, Tenn., August 30.—In Washington, Rhea county, East Tennessee, on Wednesday, the blacks and whites got into a fight, when the negroes were driven from the town. Getting assistance from the Loyal League, the blacks returned to the town and renewed the fight with varying success. A number of persons were wounded.

THE FENIANS.

Release of Colonels Warren and Nagle, American-Fenian Prisoners in Ireland -Interesting Correspondence on the Subject.

WASHINGTON, August 30.—The following correspondence has been furnished:—

WASHINGTON, August 30.—The following correspondence has been furnished:—

New Yoak, August 16.—Dear Sir:—I have just received a letter from Colonel John Warren, late of the Pederal Army, and a citizen of the United States, dated August 2, and written from the jail in Dublin, where he is confined a prisoner, without specific charges, and, as he believes, without just grounds. This is but one of many cases where American cilizens of Irish birth, and some of American birth, are detained by the British Government under some pretext or other. It is a common this giu Irelaud for the emissaries of this tyraunical power to arrest and insarcerate in dungeons your own countrymen for no other reason than that they are your countrymen. The fact that the person is an American appears to be sufficient justification for the perpetration of these wrongs. This is a national insult, which our Government is not at liberty to everlook. Every clitzen, whether native or asopted, is entitled to protection, and in the present case the obligation rests upon us with more than ordinary force. The reasons which render our Irish adopted citizens so obnoxious to English eyes are because, as a class, they are so entirely and purely American in their views of republican liberty, and in opposition to despotism. They hate England, because England oppresaes their native land, and the faith of their fathers. They would be unworthy of their own history and degenerate Americans if they could feel otherwise under the circumstances. I therefore, Mr. President, respectfully but earnostly ask your immediate attention to this subject. I know that other public duties are pressing, but still the urgency of these cases, and the nat onal honor involved, and the faith of these cases, and the national honor involved, and the faith of these cases, and the national on on a continuity or cases, and the national of continuity of these cases, and the national official action. Respectfully, your obedient servant.

PERNANDO WOOD.

The President placed Mr. Wood's let

The President placed Mr. Wood's letter before the Cabinet on Monday, the 20th instant, and Mr. Seward was directed to confer at once with Sir Frederick Bruce, the British Minister, on the subject, and to reply to Mr. Wood. The following is the reply:—

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, August 22, 287.—The Hon. Fernando Wood, New York—Sir.—The letter which you addressed to the President on the 18th of August, relating to the case of Colone Jehn Warren, late of the United States Army, who has been arrested; together win William J. Nagle, and with him detained in Dublin, under the suspension of the habeas corpus act, has been referred to this Department. The subject has already received the attention of this Department, which understands that those persons are of izans of the Walted States, and that there are no sufficient grounds to charge them with the commission of any offense against the laws of Great Britalo; and has good reason to believe that they have already neen, or will without further delay be discharged. I have the honor to be, sir, your obedient servant.

WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

On August 23, the day after, Sir Frederick On August 23, the day after, Sir Frederick Bruce telegraphed to his Government, recom-mending the immediate discharge of Colonels Megle and Warren from imprisonment, and sent to Mr. Seward a copy of the despatch. It is believed they have been discharged.

VELOCIPEDES .- The use of velocipedes is becoming popular in Paris. Many of the amateurs who are fend of this sort of violent exercise have selected the vicinity of the cascade in the Bois de Boulogne, where they may be seen any meraing from nine till eleven displaying their skill and the rapidity of their speed. FROM THE DRY TORTUGAS.

The Assassination Conspirators - Arnold, Spangler, Mudd, and O'Laughlin -How they Spend their Time-What Mudd Thinks about the Newspapers.

The following is taken from a letter received in this city from the Dry Tortogas:—
FORT JEFFERSON, Florida, August 18, 1867.—I arrived here safe and sound, after a not very pleasant trip. The thermometer keeps steadily between eighty-five and ninety, but with a steady breeze, which we have all the time, I do not see the heat so much as I did in Washington. The quarters are excellent, and plenty of them, and I have not slept under a mosquito bar, nor have I been annoyed by the mosquitoes at all. I amuse myself fishing, and it is the Snest I have ever enjoyed; coraling, and col-lecting shell. Our greatest drawback is the irregularity of the mails. Our mail reaches us by way of Havana, It comes out from New York in one of the Havana line of steamers and we send a schooner over for it. There are but few prisoners here now, forty-five in all, and two-thirds of them, if not more, are United States soldiers, who have been sent here for various crimes, principally desertion. The conspirators are loiged, like the other prisoners, in the second tier of casemates. Their quarters are second tier of casemates. casemates. Their quarters are cool, dry, and airy, and command quite as pleasant a view as there is. They manage to live pretty well with their Government rations and what their friends send them. Arnold is employed as a clerk, and seems satisfied. Spangier and O'Laughlin work at their trade as carpenters. Mudd works now in the carpenter-shop, and is getting quite handy with the tools. They all are in excellent health, but are a little thinner are in excellent health, but are a little thinner than is natural for them. They have the benefit of the library, and Mudd and Arnold read some. On the whole, they are much better off than they would be anywhere else; I believe certainly they are better off than any prisoners I ever saw. A reporter of the New York Herald visited the post this morning, and Mudd expressed some fears that he would publish some thing concerning them, and said that they would much rather be left alone, as they already suffered a good deal from newspaper accounts. -Washington Star.

THE NELLIE MITCHELL DISASTER

The Vessel at Sea with All on Board Helpless with Fever. The brig Nellie Mitchell, Captain Dunphy, reported by telegraph as having put into Key West with crew sick, sailed from Aspinwall August 2, for Swan Island, for a load of guano, and when but four days out the crew were pros trated with Chagres fever, with the exception of the master and one man, who worked the ship. On the 5th were within fifty miles of their destined port, when the master and the only well man of the crew were attacked with fever, necessitating the heaving-to of the brig. The master, fearing that none might survive, wrote letters, and tacked them to the bulkhead, wrote letters, and tacked them to the bulkhead, that in event of their being afterwards boarded their fate might be known. On the lith the master recovered so far as to head the vessel for San Antonio, and then it was, he states, that his sufferings were most intense; that while endeavoring to steer the vessel on her course he often fell fainting on the deck, with no one to relieve him from his imposed task, or hand a drop of water to revive him. Fortunately, while in this condition, he was spoken nately, while in this condition, he was spoken by brig Lizzie Bell, from Swan Island for Wey-mouth, Mass., with guano. The second mate of the Lizzie Bell went on board the brig, and remained to assist the master. On the 14th the steward recovered so as to render assistance, and thus recovited they reached. Tortness on steward recovered so as to render assistance, and, thus recruited, they reached Tortugas on the 15tb; but obtaining no assistance, the brig left for Key West. On the 19th, Andrew Jackson, seaman, of New York, died. The Neilie Mitchell arrived at Key Weston the 20th, The day after arrival, Thomas Hamilton, second officer, died. The master relapsed, owing to over-exertion while in a feeble condition, but has recovered. A new crew would be snipped, and the brig return home. and the brig return home.
